

We are in the telecommunications business and assist our customers in acquiring their FCC License. We would like to request that the FCC allow Public Safety Coordination and Business be combined so we can go thru one Coordination Company. In the last year I have found it a very time consuming and cumbersome process to get a public safety frequency. We have been working on one right now for nine months, if this had gone thru our regular coordination company it would have been done in a timely manner.
